Travel Information

At the Airport of Zurich: The Airport of Zurich is located close to the city and has its own train station. The trip by train into the city (to the Main Railway Station) takes approx. 10 minutes; train tickets are available at ticket machines, a one-way ticket costs CHF 6.80.

Taxis are well available at the Airport. By taxi it takes approx. 15 to 30 minutes to the city, depending on the traffic. Costs are approx. CHF 50.-

At the Main Railway Station (Hauptbahnhof): The Main Railway Station is located right at the heart of the city. All tramways and most of the bus lines pass the Main Railway Station. From there, shopping and attractions are just a short distance away. The famous "Bahnhofstrasse" just starts at the Main Railway Stations. Taxis are well available.

Accommodation

Rooms have been blocked in several hotels from 7 to 10 June 2018. Most of the hotels are in walking distance to the University or can be reached by a short tram ride. The blocked rooms must be booked until Friday, 4 May, 2018, and can be viewed and booked under the following link:

<https://www.zuerich.com/en/visit/kongress-der-european-association-of-tax-law-professors-eatlp>

The mentioned prices below are per night; some of the prices include breakfast. Please consider the different cancellation policies.

The blocked rooms must be booked on the platform (link above) or through the Zurich tourism office.

Besides the Congress hotels there is a wide range of hotels available in Zurich, from the 5-stars luxurious hotels Baur-au Lac close to the lake, Storchen or Widder in the historic city to several 2-stars IBIS hotels such as IBIS Zurich City West or IBIS Zurich Messe Airport. Please visit the website of Zurich tourism for further information (<https://www.zuerich.com/en>).

Local transportation

Public transport: Public transport operates from approx. 5.00 AM to approx. 00.00 PM. There is a dense network of trams and buses and you can find a bus or tram stop at intervals of around 300 meters. At most of the stops you can view timetable information, the next connections, zone map and ticket machine. You can purchase tickets for 1 hour or Day Cards for various zones. Zurich City is part of Zone 110, the Airport part of Zone 121.

Most convenient are Day Cards that enable you to travel within specified zones for 24 hours – wherever you want, however you want and as often as you want. Day Cards ("Tageskarten") can be bought at ticket machines.

For details please visit: <https://www.zvv.ch/zvv/en/travelcards-and-tickets/tickets/daypass.html>

Taxis: Taxis can be found in queues close to tourist attractions, train/bus stations and airports or in the street just raising your arm. All are metered.

Climate

Zurich has, depending on the definition used, an oceanic climate, with four distinct seasons. Decisive for the climate of Zurich are both the winds from westerly directions, which often result in precipitation and, on the other hand, the "Bise" (east or north-east wind), which is usually associated with high-pressure situations, but cooler weather phases with temperatures lower than the average. The "Foehn" wind, which plays an important role in the northern alpine valleys also has some impact on Zurich.

What to expect in June:

There is typically a wide range of weather situations you might encounter in Zurich. In June, the average maximum temperature reaches 20 degrees Celsius. The average minimum temperature is about 12 degrees. However, the weather can be changeable with very sunny and very rainy days.

Languages

The main languages spoken in Switzerland are German, French and Italian. Zurich is located in the German speaking part of Switzerland. You can expect mainly the younger people to at least understand English. At the University or in the hotel you should not have any problem communicating in English.

Electrical power

The voltage in Switzerland, as in most of Europe, is 230V/50 Hz. Switzerland uses type C (2-pin) and Type J (3-pin) plugs. Most power sockets are designed for three pin round plugs. The standard continental type plug with two round pins, applied for many electrical travel products, may usually be used without problems. For those coming from the USA with 110v 60 Hz appliances or from the UK a plug-in adopter is necessary.

Tips & Taxes

Tips are readily accepted in Zurich even though there is no obligation to give a tip. As a general guideline in restaurants and bars the usual tip is around 5-10% of the bill, depending on the size of the bill and the quality of service. The VAT (MWSt) applied to most items and services is generally included. The VAT rates are 7.7% (general rate), tourist accommodation (3.7%) and 2.5 % (reduced rate for food etc.)

Currency & Exchange

The Swiss Franc "CHF" is the unit of currency. EUR is accepted in many shops, however, often at a not very favourable exchange rate. Banks will exchange the major currencies. There are also "exchange offices" but this service is far less common than in other cities. ATMs can be found at the airport and at many places in the City.

There is an ATM in the main building of the University (KOL).

Business hours

General business hours in Zurich are from 8am to 6:30pm. Some establishments have different hours, such as banks, official government offices and services (post office). Large department stores and shopping malls often have extended opening hours in the evening (often until 8 pm).
