4 Your stay at the Faculty of Law UZH

4.1 About the Faculty of Law

Founded over 175 years ago, the Faculty of Law of the University of Zurich (RWF UZH) is now one of the largest law faculties in Europa with enrollment currently standing at approx. 3,600 students. The students are supervised by around 50 professors and numerous other staff members. Each year about 150 mobility students come to RWF UZH from law faculties all over the world.

Under the Bologna system, academic achievement is usually tested each year and accounted for as ECTS credits. After three years of successful study the first law degree is attained with the Bachelor of Law (B Law), which is usually supplemented by the Master of Law (M Law) after one and half years of further study.

The Master's degree program was implemented for the first time in the fall semester of 2009. In addition to numerous courses held in German, the program offers a broad range of courses in English, which will increase in the future as part of the growing internationalization of the studies.

4.2 ECTS Credits

ECTS (European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System) is a system that regulates the accumulation and transfer of credits earned for coursework. This system encourages transparency within the European higher education area and fosters student mobility within Europe.

At UZH, 1 ECTS credit point represents a workload of 30 hours. Credits are only awarded, if you pass an examination or have other work officially recognized. The grading scale ranges from 1 to 6, where 6 represents the highest grade and 4 the pass mark.

4.3 UniAccess

You should have received your matriculation number, your „shortname“ and your password from the GSE or the Student Administration Office.

Example

Matriculation number: 12-345-678
Fullname: FristnameLastname
UniAccess-ID: Shortname
Uni shortname password: *****
Uni-E-mail address: firstname.lastname@uzh.ch

At present, the shortname can be used to gain access to the following services:

- UZH AD (Windows domains, public workstations)
- VPN (remote access VPN)
- WebPass (UZH web services)
- WLAN (UZH wireless LAN, eduroam, network workstations)
- AAI-login (Authentication and Authorization Infrastructure for Swiss Institutes of Higher Education)
- OLAT (Online Learning and Training)

Please keep your password in a safe place! Once it has been changed, neither the Student Center of the Faculty of Law of the University of Zurich nor the GSE or the Student Administration Office will be able to help you.

ATTENTION

Please note that you will receive important documents related to your studies to your uzh e-mail address.

The Student Center sends e-mails to the e-mail address provided by the mobility students on the registration forms.

Check your e-mail accounts regularly!

4.4 Courses

4.4.1 Courses conducted in spring semester 2022

In spring semester 2022, the courses are expected to take place on site. All classroom teaching must comply with the applicable protective measures.

If the pandemic situation worsens again, the courses can generally be switched back to online teaching. Synchronous teaching or parts thereof will take place during the allotted teaching hours. Asynchronous teaching or parts thereof do not have to take place at specific times and are available in digital form (e.g. as podcasts).

Please note: Digital assessments (especially online exams) are not planned at the moment, but it is possible that such assessments will have to be implemented.

4.4.2 Terminology

The courses are offered each semester in the form of lectures, exercises and seminars. Modules consist of lectures or exercise.

- Modules

Modules may consist of a combination of courses, such as a lecture and an exercise. The required workload is made up of the time spent in class as well as time spent in self-study (reading, preparing for an exam, writing a paper). Modules usually extend over one or two semesters. You receive a fixed number of ECTS credits for a passed module. A module is considered to have been passed if the corresponding assessment has been successfully completed. Types of assessment include, for example, written or oral examinations, presentations, written papers, etc.

- Lectures

A lecture is a teaching method conducted by an instructor in which an aspect of law is systematically examined. Lectures form the basis and starting point for dealing with a subject and are the most important and most frequent type of course at the Faculty of Law.

- Exercises

The purpose of exercises (Übungen) is the development of knowledge and skills gained in a field, as well as applying abstract concepts to concrete facts by working on problems derived from practical situations. Attending an exercise only makes sense when you are thoroughly prepared and able to take active part in discussions.

- Seminars

Seminars are used to apply an academic approach to defined problems within a specialized field. Each semester, about ten to twenty seminars (sometimes organized as block courses lasting several days) are offered in various fields. Participation in a seminar is based on a paper (approx. 25 pages for 6 ECTS credits) about a specific topic. During a seminar, you will be expected to participate actively and to prepare a presentation on the topic under consideration.

Seminars are often conducted outside of the premises of the university and are in some cases therefore associated with additional expenses that must be paid by the students themselves.

ATTENTION: Registration for seminars takes place in the previous semester! For a seminar taking place in spring semester, students have to register in the previous semester, i.e. fall semester.

Mobility students may register for a maximum of one seminar per semester. Seminars have a limited number of places available. For this reason, participation in a seminar cannot be guaranteed.

4.4.3 Online Course Catalogue

All courses offered by the Faculty of Law and other faculties at the UZH are available in the online course catalogue.

The course catalogue for spring semester 2022 is available on this website:

<https://studentservices.uzh.ch/uzh/anonym/vvz/index.html?sap-language=EN&sap-ui-language=EN#/SC/2021/004/50000002>

The individual modules are listed in the course catalogue. By clicking on a module, you receive detailed information on it, in particular the listings for the associated course(s). By clicking on a course again, you receive information on the content, instructor, room, and deadlines.

4.4.4 Course selection

Swiss mobility students and mobility students from foreign partner universities have the opportunity to attend and be assessed for courses from the entire RWF UZH Bachelor's and Master's curriculum.

All mobility students can freely arrange their own study schedule. No rules or regulations exist on the part of RWF UZH with regard to:

- minimum number of ECTS credits or
- compulsory modules.

We recommend completing a minimum of 12 ECTS credits per semester.

Mobility students are, however, subject to the regulations and obligations of their home universities. It is therefore of the utmost importance that students arrange their study plan with their home faculty.

The only restriction set by RWF UZH for all mobility students is that they may complete no more than one seminar per semester.

ATTENTION:

It lies within your own responsibility to arrange a course schedule and examination schedule without collisions!

4.4.5 Modules offered by other faculties at the UZH

If you are interested in taking courses which are not offered by the Faculty of Law, please contact the responsible coordinator at the faculty of interest in order to book the module and register for the examinations.

In the online course catalogue you will find information on which faculty is offering a module under „Organization“.

4.4.6 Learning Agreements

Any Learning Agreements between you and your home faculty have to be signed by the Student Center in most cases. The Learning Agreement can be sent by contact form to the Student Center.

4.4.7 Course materials

Various materials for the lectures will be published by the instructor on the websites of their chairs. You will find a list of all chairs and the individual links to the websites here: <http://www.ius.uzh.ch/staff/professorships.html>
Or on OLAT: www.olat.uzh.ch

5 Module Booking and Examinations

5.1 In General

Booking a module means registering for an examination. Modules can only be booked online: <http://www.elt.uzh.ch/mobmodule>

If you would like to visit a lecture without taking an examination, you are free to do so. In this case, you do not have to book the module. Please note that the Faculty of Law UZH does not issue confirmations of attendance.

5.2 Examinations in Spring Semester 2022

The examinations are expected to take place on site.

5.3 Types of Examinations

The following types of examinations are offered at the Faculty of Law UZH for mobility students:

1. Regular written examinations
2. Regular oral examinations
3. Written mobility examinations
4. Oral mobility examinations
5. Papers, presentations etc.

Usually all students take regular written or oral examinations. However, in some modules so called mobility examinations are offered.

What are mobility examinations?

Mobility examinations are special examinations offered for mobility students only. It is up to the instructor to decide whether he or she offers a mobility examination instead of a regular examination for the mobility students. There is no obligation to offer a mobility examination. The instructors define the modalities of the mobility examinations. Should you have questions regarding the examination modalities, please contact the instructor directly.

Mobility examinations take place in the last two weeks of the lecture period, before the regular examinations take place.

Mobility students are not entitled to a mobility examination or re-taking a mobility examination they have failed.

It is possible that mobility examinations are offered with restrictions, i.e. for non-native speakers only or only if good reasons exist not to take the regular examination (internships, examination at home university etc.).

If there is no mobility examination offered in a module you will have to sit the regular examination. After the end of the booking and cancellation period, no additional mobility examinations are granted.

The Student Center publishes all mobility examinations that are offered in a given semester on their website at the start of the lecture period.

Further information on mobility examination is available in the Fact Sheet on Mobility Studies:

http://www.ius.uzh.ch/faculty/rsjur/4.5.1.3_merkblatt_mobilitaetsstudium_rwf.pdf

IMPORTANT:

Mobility examinations cannot be transferred to a degree at the Faculty of Law UZH. If you would like to enroll in the Bachelor of Law or Master of Law study program, please note that mobility examinations will not be accredited to your degree.

IMPORTANT:

Should you fail a regular examination and decide, at a later point in time, to study as a regular student at the Faculty of Law UZH, the failed attempts in regular exams during your exchange will be transferred. All regular examinations passed during your exchange will be transferred to your degree as well, if you become a regular student.

5.4 Booking of mobility examinations and regular examinations

As a mobility student you must book all modules offered by the Faculty of Law UZH in the online module booking tool offered by the Student Center. Please do not use the official module booking tool of the UZH. Mobility examinations are not listed there.

The module booking period starts on and ends on

9th March 2022, 18:00 h

The booking must be made via the online module booking tool of the Student Center.

in the online module booking tool of the Student Center.

After the booking and cancellation deadline has finished, no alterations are possible.
